

CLEARANCE SALE Of PIANOS At STEINWAY HALL

Which commenced Monday of this week is proving a great success. So far we have sold 15 pianos. We have now of used pianos;

One Chickering Upright, about 12 years old, in good condition$375
One Chickering Upright, about 15 years old, but in good condition, with new strings and hammers, at..... 275
These two pianos are real Chickering Pianos. They were made before the plant and name were sold to the American Piano Company of Rochester, New York.
One Westmayer Piano at.....$100
One Beethoven Piano at..... 70

Our sale of new Pianos and Player-Pianos will continue, if our stock lasts, till our holiday stock of pianos arrives on the steamer Arizonian, December 17th, when the prices will be held at the regular marked price.

Pianos bought for Christmas gifts, will be stored and delivered Christmas morning. We sell on a cash or installment basis.

Thayer Piano Co., Ltd.

148-150 Hotel St.,

Opposite Young Hotel

Telephone 2313

ABUSE SURE TO BE MEASURE OF HONEST, FEARLESS NEWSPAPER

"Editors Must Expect to Tread
Hot Coals of Criticism,"
Says Convention Speaker

One of the interesting speakers at the recent meeting of the district press association of Florida, held at Jacksonville, was Mr. Frank Harris, publisher of the Ocala Banner. Mr. Harris is one of the veteran newspapermen of the state, having made his entrance into the print shop nearly three-score years ago. He gave some interesting reminiscences of the business in his early days. In touching on the duty of the press as a moulder of public opinion, Mr. Harris said: "To effect reforms no newspaper must expect to escape criticism. No newspaper, no matter how honest, honest and conscientiously conducted, can expect always to reap praise and plaudits. It may please one today and another tomorrow. Abuse is of constant occurrence in journalism. All writers have and must continue to tread the hot coals of criticism. Shakespeare did not escape it. Milton was engulfed in it. Burns and Byron felt its pang. Greeley, Prentice and Dana had their calumniators. Colonel Waterson is yet being surfeited with abuse. "But unkind or relentless criticism must not make us unmindful of our duty to the public and to ourselves. "One of the early writers described a good editor in the following language: "A gentleman steady in his principles, nice of honor, diligent of learning, brave as the sword he wears, bold as a lion; a sure friend, an implacable enemy; who would lose his life willingly to serve his country and would not do a base thing to save it. "If an editor is true to the faith that is in him and is unyielding in his opinions if they are grounded in the principles of right and justice, and is not shaken by every passing breeze, he justly merits the reward of his fellow men. "The chief fabric of our institutions is the right to worship God according to the dictates of one's own conscience. "The press should stand immovable for this right. "It should be accorded without let or hindrance to Jew and Gentile; Catholic and Protestant. "I do not believe that one can do a greater honor to the flag or pay greater reverence to the Constitution than to be tolerant of all religions. To persecute one for opinion's sake is to destroy our hope of an ideal republic. "The change which the newspaper profession had undergone during the last half century formed the subject of a part of Mr. Harris' remarks. Referring to the fight of the elder Mr. Bennett against "personal journalism," he said:

Elder Bennett Called Names.

"Mr. Frederick Hudson in his 'History of Journalism' devotes nearly a half page to the epithets hurled at the elder Bennett by his contemporaries when he started out on a new departure in journalism. I quote only a few, but they will give an insight into the bristling editorial page of that era. "Mr. Bennett had announced that he would treat his calumniators with silence and indifference and print the news regardless of consequences and in the doing of which he would tread on many toes. "He was called a 'venomous reptile,' a 'politroon,' a 'venal wretch,' his newspaper a 'filthy rag'; by another contemporary a 'turkey buzzard,' a 'cal-tiff,' a 'monster in human shape,' a 'prince of darkness,' a 'foreign black-guard,' a 'common bandit,' etc. "Rather than indorse the method of settling private grievances 'usual among gentlemen,' Mr. Bennett continued in the even tenor of his way, gathering and printing the news, social, foreign and domestic, and in the course of a few years the Herald had a larger circulation than all his adversaries combined. "He had won the fight, public opinion was with him. 'Personal journalism' had been put on the 'blink.'"

MISSIONARY EVENING HELD AT M. E. CHURCH

A very interesting missionary evening was enjoyed at the First Methodist church last Wednesday at the hour of the regular midweek service. The attendance was large. The program, which was given by 15 of those present, was varied and well carried out.

SOCIETY AT COAST ARTILLERY POSTS

The social event of the week at Fort Kamehameha was the dance given by Major and Mrs. Powell Fauntleroy. They have but recently moved into one of the new sets of quarters which are completed, and the affair of Monday evening was in the form of a house warming. The large lanai was festive with yellow flowers which blended well with the tapa hung walls. The living room and dining were done in pink carnations and greenery. The guests danced until a late hour at which time a delicious collation was served. The guests included Major and Mrs. Joseph Douglas, Lieut.-col. and Mrs. Frank Coe, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Winn, Lieut. and Mrs. John Mather, Lieut. and Mrs. Guy Gearhart, Captain and Mrs. Sanford French, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weston, Captain and Mrs. Clifford Jones, Captain and Mrs. Malcolm Andrus, Captain and Mrs. George Taylor, Lieut. and Mrs. Frederick Garcia, Lieut. and Mrs. Herbert Ellis, Miss Katherine Schmidt, Lieut. Coleman Jenkins, Dr. Reesman, Lieut. Robert Guthrie and Lieut. Fordyce L. Perego.

Captain and Mrs. Norris Stayton of Fort De Russy entertained with a dinner for eight Tuesday evening. The table held a centerpiece of old-fashioned red dahlias while the places were marked by little Japanese maidens holding lanterns suspended on wires. The guests present were Lieut. and Mrs. Louis D. Peppin, Lieut. and Mrs. Manning Kimmel, Jr., Captain Henry Hatch and Lieut. George Van Deusen. Captain and Mrs. Edward E. Farnsworth who were passengers on the transport of last week were the luncheon guests Saturday of Captain and Mrs. Francis Hinkle of Fort Armstrong. Captain Farnsworth and Captain Hinkle were classmates at West Point.

Mrs. John Mather was hostess Tuesday afternoon at the sewing club of Fort Kamehameha. Later tea was served. Among those present were Mrs. Powell Fauntleroy, Mrs. Clifford Jones, Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Joseph Douglas, Mrs. Ralph Weston, Mrs. Frederick Garcia, Miss Katherine Schmidt and Mrs. John Mather.

Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Applin entertained at dinner Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Kelly and Mr. Paul Kelly of Baltimore, who are visiting Kelly's son, Lieut. Edward Kelly of Fort Ruger. Covers were laid for Mrs. Kelly, Mr. Paul Kelly, Lieut. Edward Kelly and Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Applin.

Mrs. Charles G. Mettler is the house-guest of Mrs. Guy Gearhart of Fort Kamehameha. Friday afternoon Mrs. Gearhart invited Mrs. Robert Blair, Mrs. George Taylor and Mrs. Hermann H. Zornig in most informally for tea.

Captain and Mrs. Edward Farnsworth were the guests of Lieut. and the highest scores.

Mrs. Guy Gearhart on a delightful motor ride Sunday afternoon, arriving at Fort Kamehameha where tea was enjoyed at the Gearhart quarters.

An arrival on the transport Friday Ruler was Lieut. Fordyce L. Perego, who is to be stationed at Fort Kamehameha. Lieut. Perego was last stationed at West Point as instructor.

Captain and Mrs. Frederick Phisterer of Fort Ruger entertained Major and Mrs. Edwin Landon as their house-guests during the stay of the transport at Honolulu.

The Wednesday Morning Bridge Club of Fort Kamehameha met with Mrs. Sanford French. Mrs. Clifford Jones and Mrs. Ralph Weston held

Lieut. and Mrs. Manning Kimmel, Jr., of Fort De Russy had as their dinner guests Wednesday evening Lieut. and Mrs. Harold F. Loomis of Fort

Captain and Mrs. Malcolm Andrus were the dinner-guests Saturday evening of Captain and Mrs. Edward Farnsworth at the Young hotel.

A theater party of Wednesday evening was composed of Captain and Mrs. Clifford Jones and Lieut. and Mrs. John Mather.

An informal supper party of Sunday night was composed of Lieut. and Mrs. Louis D. Peppin and Lieut. and Mrs. Edwin J. O'Hara.

ASTONISHING PRICES AT MILLINERY SALE

All winter hats at Miss Power's millinery parlors will be sold out at about half price beginning Monday morning. There will be no reservations from the sale. See announcement in today's paper.—Adv.

Buffalo has an anti-vice crusade.

Old Silver Made New

At these low prices we will make your silver just like new from the factory by our silver-plating process.

Knives	Doz. $3.50	Coffee Pots	Each $3.50 to $ 6.00
Forks	" 3.50	Tea Pots	3.00 to 5.00
Teaspoons	" 3.00	Sugar Bowls	2.00 to 3.50
Dessert Spoons	" 3.75	Cream Pitchers	2.00 to 3.50
Table Spoons	" 4.00	Cake Baskets	3.50 to 6.00
Match Safes	Each .50	Butter Dishes	2.50 to 4.00
Cigarette Cases	" 1.00	Spoon Holders	2.50 to 3.50
Cigar Cases	" 2.00	Castors	3.00 to 6.00
Spurs, pair, each $2.00 to 5.00		Platters	3.00 to 20.00
Pickle Holders, each $2 to 5.00		Soup Tureens	8.00 to 30.00
Ladies' Mesh Bags, $2 to $10.00

Prices furnished for all other work on request.

We also do Nickel, Brass, Copper, Bronze, Gold Plating, Galvanizing and Oxidizing.

Electro Plating Works

All Work Guaranteed

910 Alakea Street

Phone 4448

Coyne Furniture Company's Thanksgiving Gift To You

If you will cut this out and present it

Wednesday, Nov. 24th

you will receive a bottle of Furniture Polish, worth 25c